Canyon Suit Defense Plan Of Trustees

Defense by the city of the suit brought by A. L. Rineps and others to stop the Canyon improvement district proceedings was decided upon last night by the trustees. City Attorney Baker ruled that issuance of the bonds was mandatory as a result of the election and that the board had no right to go behind the returns. He and Attorney Walter Dunn will support the city's side of the case. Attorney Robert Mitchell also spoke in similar vein as a representative of the Canyon people who favor the bond issue.

N. W. Tarr was appointed by Chairman Sparks to fill the vacancy on the park commission caused by the resignation of Carl F. Young.

H. H. Steinberger was low bidder on the Highland avenue sidewalk contract, bidding 23 cents a square foot against W. M. Evans, who bid 24.5 cents.

H. H. Steinberger and the Pasadena Paving Co. had a close race on the Hermosa-Bonita avenue improvement which the city engineer will have to decide. Mr. Steinberger was low bidder on paving, curb and gutters, but the Pasadena firm bid lower on concrete culverts, leaving the result in doubt.

H. H. Steinberger's low bid of $6750 for the Auburn avenue reservoir was accepted.

The city engineer and attorney were instructed by the board to prepare proceedings to lay out, open and widen West Montecito avenue between Lima and Sunnyside.

Action Soon On Firemen's Club Plant

Members of the Firemen's Club held an exciting meeting Wednesday night to consider the disposition of the lot and foundation of the long delayed club building. An offer from C. S. Kersting brought the matter to a point requiring action and whether his offer is accepted or not, he will probably merit credit for bringing things to a head. He proposed to pay the club $2,000 cash, erect a theater building, assume the club's obligation to house the city fire apparatus for seven years, and give the club certain quarters for 10 years. The proposition had strong support and stronger opposition.

After lengthy discussion sentiment seemed to resolve into the feeling that the club had no moral right to sell the property but should turn it back to the city if unable to carry out the agreement under which it was acquired. No action was taken on Mr. Kersting's offer, which is good until Nov. 30. A committee was appointed to meet with the city trustees to consider terms on which the property might be turned back to the city with justice for all concerned.

Work in the Entered Apprentice degree will be put on at the meeting of Sierra Madre Lodge No. 408, F. & A. M., next Tuesday night, according to announcement of the master, E. L. Yerxa. On account of the number of members of the order usually found among the newcomers at this time of the year, a special invitation is extended to all Master Masons. The lodge hall is on the second floor of the Woman's Club House on West Central.

Disabled war veterans will be interested in the annual Armistice number of "Buddy," published by the disabled veterans organization. It contains many interesting articles by prominent men and is a valuable number. William J. Colligan has received a supply of the magazines for free distribution among the disabled veterans. They may be obtained by calling on him at the home of his father-in-law, Col. John Borradale, or he will deliver them to men who are confined to their homes.

LEGION DANCE POPULAR PART OF CELEBRATION

"A whole floor full" accurately describes the crowd at the Legion dance which wound up the Armistice Day celebration in the Woman's Club House Tuesday night. And the hosts proved equal to the occasion, providing an evening of fun which has seldom been equalled.

Music was furnished by the Golden State Orchestra and the rhythm and melodies of the colored boys did credit to the traditions of their race. One of the interesting features of the evening was a balloon bursting contest, the balloons being tied to the ladies' ankles and the game being only a little less hazardous than soccer football. The prize for keeping her balloon intact the longest went to Miss Alice Stanley.

It was the consensus of opinion among the guests that the hosts were not only mighty warriors but gallant knights and genial hosts, whose future entertainments would deserve the same liberal patronage.

Henderson Is Named State Fire Warden

Water Superintendent Tom Henderson has received the following letter, paying well deserved tribute, for his splendid work during the mountain fire campaign:

Angels National Forest, Federal Building, Los Angeles, Oct. 30, '24.
Mr. Thos. Henderson, City Hall, Sierra Madre, Calif.

Dear Henderson:
In short order you will undoubtedly receive from our District Forester a letter thanking you, in behalf of the Service, for the splendid work which you did in connection with our recent fire. You certainly did render very efficient services, and you know that I, personally, appreciated them. Had it not been for you and the action you took at the second fire near the Divide Camp, I am afraid that we would have had a fire in Big Santa Anita, the thing which I was most anxious to avoid.

Davis suggested that we appoint you as a State Fire Warden, and I would be only too glad to do so if you are willing to accept the appointment, which is more or less of an honorary one. If you feel inclined to do so, please execute the enclosed oath of office and return it to me, and I shall be only too glad to send it along with the highest recommendations.

Again thanking you for what you did for us, I am, very truly yours,
R. H. CHARLTON, Forest Supervisor

TEA PLANNED BY LADIES OF ST. RITA'S CLUB

A well attended meeting of St. Rita's Altar Society was held last Thursday afternoon in the school auditorium. The main topic discussed was an afternoon tea to be given at the home of Mrs. John Borradale, 391 E. Grand View, on Monday afternoon, Dec. 8.

There will be a table of small articles for sale, such as guest towels, aprons of all kinds, hankies, and various other small useful articles. There will also be a table of home cooked foods.

Money taken in will go to the furnishing fund for St. Rita's Shrine, which will start within a week or so. Please keep the date in mind, Dec. 8. A cordial invitation is extended to every one.

The monthly food sale given by the St. Rita's club, the last Saturday of every month, will be given this month on Wednesday, the day before Thanksgiving, specializing in home made pies and cakes for that Thanksgiving dinner.

Dr. Lloyd Krebs returned home Sunday after a trip of several weeks through the east. He enjoyed a delightful visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Krebs, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Prizes Given For Essays on Home Lights

Prize awards in the home lighting essay contest were made at the public school Thursday morning. The winner of first prize was Roberta Scott, 195 Santa Anita Court, a 12-year-old pupil of the 7A grade of the public school.

The contest has been in progress several weeks, being fostered by the Southern California Edison company, G. I. Farman and Claude Vedder, local electrical dealers.

The judges were Mrs. Fred Griebel, E. D. Burbank, R. M. Finlayson and Miss Susan Beam. They reported a difficult time selecting the best essays from among the many meritorious entries, which were designated only by number. There were 85 entries from the public school and 14 from St. Rita's.

When the pupils had been assembled out of doors Thursday morning, where the three prizes were displayed, Mr. Schwartz, district manager for the Edison company, said the purpose of the contest was not merely the winning of prizes but the gaining of knowledge about home lighting.

Prizes Given Out

Mrs. Griebel announced the winners as numbers 12, 34 and 14, whereupon Mr. Schwartz opened the envelopes containing the names and made the awards as follows:

First prize to Roberta Scott, 7A grade of the public school, $50 radio set contributed by G. I. Farman of the Sierra Madre Electric Co.

Second prize to Helen Elizabeth Mylott, of the 8th grade of St. Rita's school, boudoir lamp contributed by Claude Vedder.

Third prize, to Elizabeth Lichnog of the 7A grade of the public school, box of Mazda lamps contributed by Claude Vedder.

Rev. Father Bennet said those who had taken part in the contest deserved a great deal of credit for their hard work and excellent productions in work of a collegiate nature.

Mr. Schwartz, Mr. Reagan and Mr. Culp of the Edison company were especially appreciative of the co-operation of Miss Steinberger in working up interest in the contest. The winning essay will be entered in a district competition, from which the winner will go to the state contest. The state winner will be entered in an international contest in New York ending on December 31.

The winning essay follows:

Improving the Lighting in Our Home
As the aim of this contest is to get the people to have better lighting in their home, I am going to tell how I would improve the lighting in our home.

In our front room the only lighting fixtures we have is a fixture having four small direct shades. One of the shades is lower than the rest being in the middle, while the rest are grouped about it. They are placed so that they direct the light into our eyes instead of shading it.

If I were selecting the lights for this room, I would select a fixture for the ceiling with four small semi-indirect shades. Candelabra for the mantle and a reading lamp conveniently placed near a chair would add to the effectiveness of this room. A floor lamp near enough to the piano to direct light over the left shoulder of the player, would be a great convenience. Piano lamps would do as well but the other is a little more artistic.

In the dining room we have a direct lighting fixture which if lowered would be all right. As it is, it is so high that the light shines directly in our eyes. If it is lowered we will have to see that it is not lowered so much that it obstructs the view. With this improvement and either candelabra on a table or bracket fixtures on the wall, we would have sufficient light in the dining room.

In the bedroom the lighting is very poor. In the center of the ceiling there is a dense milk-white globe and in one corner of the room, on the wall, is another fixture hold-

State School Head Speaker Before Club

Elmer E. Knox, secretary of the State School at Whittier, will be the speaker for the November dinner of the Men's Community Club in the Congregational church next Thursday night, November 20. He will bring with him a group of boys from the school who will take part in the program.

Dinner will be served at 6:15 by the ladies of the Aid society. This is 15 minutes earlier than usual and the program will follow the dinner without intermission. This will enable those who desire to do so to attend the play at the Episcopal bazaar later in the evening.

President E. E. Bacon requests early reservations for dinner. Tickets may be procured from Victor Hill, S. R. G. Twycross or at Hartman's drug store.

Joan of Arc On the Screen Sunday Night

The special evening services at the Congregational church are proving to be of splendid interest and afford much satisfaction. There will be a special feature next Sunday evening in addition to the regular film. Pictures of all the presidents of the United States will be thrown on the screen with a short biography of each.

The regular picture will be "Joan of Arc." Miss Geraldine Farrar takes the part of Joan and the feature is in three reels. There will be the usual congregational singing and the address by Dr. Tate. This is a community service and all are cordially invited to be present. As the accommodations are limited you must come early to secure good seats.

Dr. Tate will preach at the morning service.

Mrs. Lehner, 550 West Central avenue, assisted by Mrs. Kortkamp, Mrs. Leggett, Mrs. Lord and Mrs. Jackson, will open her house to the ladies interested in the work for the "County Fair" for an all day meeting next Tuesday, Nov. 18. Work will begin at 10 a. m. and luncheon will be served at noon. The County Fair will be held in the Woman's club house under the auspices of the women of the Congregational church, all day, Dec. 6, and many amusements as well as attractive exhibits of useful and ornamental articles will be ready for inspection there.

ing a fifty-watt bulb. This fixture has no shade. For proper lighting in this room I would have a semi-indirect fixture on the ceiling, a fixture on either side of the dressing table, and a small shaded lamp on a table within easy reach from the bed. A small shaded light over the door, inside the closet is an added convenience.

Our kitchen has fixtures in correct positions but they are poorly shaded. There should be, in the center of this room, a dense milk-white globe somewhat flattened at the ends so as to diffuse the light more evenly throughout the room. Over the kitchen sink a fixture, with a milk-white shade, should be used as it keeps the worker from standing in his own shadow.

Our bath room is properly lighted with a white globe in the center of the room, and a fixture on either side of the mirror. These should also have dense white shades.

In our cellar we have but one light and that is poorly placed. The situation of the furnace pipes make it necessary to have a light over the coal bin, near the furnace and one about half-way down the cellar stairs. White globes would be good to use although they would be hard to keep clean.

Although they could probably be better, I think if the improvements I have suggested were used, our lighting would be better.

EASTERN STAR WILL INITIATE CLASS OF MEN

With a class of men as candidates Sierra Madre Chapter No. 299, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold its last initiation prior to installation of newly elected officers at the regular meeting next Monday night. The matron of the chapter, Mrs. George B. Morgridge, extends a cordial invitation to all visiting members of the order to attend. There will be a brief social period following the chapter session and refreshments will be served.

New Chapel to House Shrine Of Saint Rita

Immediate construction of a handsome Catholic church at Baldwin and Grand View avenue is forecast by Father Bennet of St. Rita's parish in calling for bids on the revised plans.

New plans and specifications are in the hands of Father Bennet, who invites all contractors to inspect them. They call for a building of brick and stucco, of attractive mission type, and with a seating capacity of 350. Outside dimensions over all will be 52x111 feet, the nave being 36x70 feet.

The church will face the south, with an impressive facade. Over the main corridor is a choir and organ loft. The shrine of St. Rita will be in an alcove on the east wall, with baptistry adjoining. The plans show a high ceiling with full curve, and indirect lighting from an ornamental chandelier. The chancel and sanctuary are of attractive design, with the boys' sacristy on the left and the priest's sacristy on the right.

The new church will give St. Rita's parish a splendid physical equipment, with the rectory, school and convent all on the same property occupying the whole Baldwin frontage from Grand View to Alegria.

Father Bennet is exceedingly proud of the lively interest of his parishioners, especially in the circumstance of the 22 men who marched through the rain last Sunday in the procession of the Holy Name Society, an event which attracted widespread attention.

PEACE GREAT OBJECTIVE OF THE ARMISTICE

Armistice Day was fittingly observed in the city park by American Legion exercises which were largely attended. Commander C. S. Floyd of the Sierra Madre Post presented to the city a steel flag pole which had been erected by the Legion near the bandstand.

On behalf of Mr. and Mrs. Steinberger, who had three sons in the late war, Adjutant Harold Roberts presented to the post a fine bunting flag, which was hoisted on the staff. Public acknowledgement was also made of the gift to the post of the colors by Robert Mitchell in memory of his son, Lt. George G. Mitchell, and of a post banner, presented by Mrs. Chloe B. Jones in memory of her three brothers who served in the Civil war.

Children of the upper grades of the public school sang several patriotic songs under the direction of Miss Pfahler. Campfire Girls under direction of their guardian, Mrs. Milton Steinberger, furnished an appropriate number setting forth the ideals of their order. Boy Scouts of Troop 1 were drawn up in martial array, their bugler sounded the color call as the flag was hoisted.

Dennis Stovall, scoutmaster, gave a brief and fitting address, making a splendid appeal for cultivation of peace ideals. He stressed the need for beginning with the young, and pointed to the recent Scout Jamboree in London as probably the greatest peace conference ever held in bringing together the younger generation as a beginning of true understanding for the future.

Guild Bazaar Promises to Be Best Ever

The annual bazaar of the Women's Guild of the Church of the Ascension will be held in the Woman's Club House Thursday and Friday of next week, Nov. 20 and 21. Those in charge, using the well known slogan of show magnates, declare that the bazaar this year will be bigger and better than ever.

Tables will be loaded with attractive articles at attractive prices, so many problems of Christmas shopping may be solved by a visit during the afternoons to the different booths. The supper is to be under the direction of Mrs. W. E. Walker, with Miss Lydia Webster, Mrs. F. L. C. Roess and Miss Vannier as first assistants and Mrs. Walker is to serve her famous individual chicken pies. The play gives promise of being one of the most successful of the many clever plays presented by local talent.

The fancy table, with quantities of dainty articles will be in charge of Mrs. W. C. Shaw, Mrs. T. M. Webster and Mrs. Boaz. The domestic table, loaded with many varieties of aprons, comforters and many other useful articles, will coax the dollars and dimes from all visitors under the skillful salesmanship of Mrs. Appleby, Mrs. M. D. Welscher and Mrs. W. W. Murphy. Mrs. F. J. Hart will have the "Novelty and Bargain" table and she claims that there will be plenty of novelty and bargains that will delight the soul of the most inveterate bargain hunter. Mrs. Spencer Howard, Mrs. T. H. Flather and Mrs. C. L. Drake, with a bevy of young girls, will do their utmost to satisfy the sweet tooth of every one who enters the club house. The home made candy is always so popular that it is sometimes difficult to make the supply keep up with the demand. Mrs. Louis Dietz will, as usual, be in charge of the cooked food booth. Mrs. Dietz and her home cooked goodies are so well known to (Continued on Page Eight)

CANYON CREST TEA ROOM AT MARLBOROUGH

A new departure in the form of a tea room has been established at Canyon Crest Lodge, Marlborough Terrace, by Mrs. A. J. Dewey and Mrs. W. C. Gruit. Canyon Crest Lodge was formerly the old Churchill lodge on the Churchill ranch at the foot of Mt. Wilson Trail. Due to the beauty of its surroundings and the wonderful view of the San Gabriel valley that it commands, is particularly adapted to the purpose for which it is now used.

The innovation lies in the fact that Canyon Crest Lodge is available to all who wish to be relieved of the tedious and troublesome details of entertaining, whether the occasion be a luncheon, a card party, a dinner, or a child's party. On balmy days the grounds and veranda are especially attractive, while for affairs when indoor comfort is desired, the cozy fireplace in the lounging room and the candle light of the dining room are inviting.

Until telephone connections can be made and special announcements sent out, Mrs. Dewey and Mrs. Gruit request that inquiries and reservations be made by mail directed to Canyon Crest Lodge, Marlborough Terrace. Or, better still, the general public is invited to make a personal inspection at any time.

An interesting feature of the tea room will be exhibitions, from time to time, of the work of Alfred James Dewey, the well known artist, before the pictures are sent to local and eastern galleries.

Dean Shaw advertised some chickens for sale in last week's News. Twenty-one phone calls resulted from that little two-line ad. That is, the Dean says he knows of that many answers, and does not know how many people may have tried to buy those advertised chickens when he was not within reach of the phone.

THREE MEN IN NEW TRIANGLE FILM STORY

Something new in triangles, with three men creating a situation unique in cinematic drama, makes the First National offering, "In Every Woman's Life," with Virginia Valli and a notable supporting cast, one of the unusual offerings of the season.

This tensely dramatic play opens at the Egyptian Monday for a five day engagement in Pasadena.

There is plenty of variety of locale in "In Every Woman's Life." Some striking shipboard scenes and a reproduction of Sherry's, famous night life center of New York, at the height of an extravagant millionaire's party, are among these.

Besides the singularly gifted Miss Valli, the cast comprises Lloyd Hughes, Marc MacDermott, Stuart Holmes, George Fawcett, and Ralph Lewis.

Lew Glick, who recently purchased the Busy Bee restaurant, reports that he has not been a victim of the dull season. In fact, his business has been growing daily. Expert service and good food are responsible for the increase in patronage, according to Mr. Glick. He invites the public to make a habit of eating at his restaurant by giving it a trial.

Traffic in the Sabine-Neches canal in Texas was blocked for three weeks by the sinking of an Italian motorship in the channel, the delay to shipping causing losses estimated at a million dollars.

WOMAN'S CLUB

Mrs. E. A. Green, Press Chairman
The tables were filled in the Wistaria room at 12:30 Wednesday, Nov. 12, for the second luncheon of the club year. A delicious luncheon, too, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Woodson Jones.

The first luncheon speaker, Mr. Robert Mitchell, presented a plea for the Red Cross, telling of its national and local work, and gave some figures on the local expenditures this year. He said that in an earlier Red Cross drive Sierra Madre won a cup for the largest membership in comparison to number of citizens of any place in the United States. We must now try to duplicate that record.

Mrs. W. J. Lawless, who is a member of the Industrial and Social committee of the Los Angeles district federation, spoke on the Child Labor Amendment. The arguments in favor of this bill will be presented in a later edition of this paper. Mrs. Steinberger also spoke highly for this bill and Mrs. J. A. Osgood read Mrs. Browning's poem, "Cry of the Children."

The program at 2:30 opened with the singing of America the Beautiful. Miss Grant then made a strong plea for better support of the valuable work of the art committee. She told how truly well worth while are the trips to the different art exhibits in the city.

Mrs. Stork then introduced Mrs. Sidney J. Parsons of the Browning section of the Ebell Club, who read a delightful paper on The Grotesque in Art and Modern Poetry. The greatest development of the grotesque in art was made in the 12th to 15th centuries. The grotesque is departing from the absolute good upon which our ideals are founded. It is man's struggle to express the fantastic and extravagant. In the middle ages the grotesque figures appeared on the cathedrals. In literature the grotesque expresses the pathetic absurdity in human life and it is an invitation to us to go below the surface. The grotesque has its usefulness in that it makes its opposite—beauty—all the brighter.

There was keen disappointment in Mrs. Stork's announcement that Kathleen Lockhart Manning was unable on account of illness to give us the group of songs she had so kindly offered.

Mrs. Stork then introduced a new-found friend and new comer to Sierra Madre, Mrs. George F. Roberts, who graciously filled in the time left by showing her fascinating collection of etchings. This collection was made during a two years' stay in the art centers of Europe and Mrs. Roberts says these etchings were selected by her husband and herself, not as connoisseurs of art, but just because they loved them and wanted them in their home. It was in the spirit of this charming and intimate friendship with her etchings that she exhibited them and introduced each one.

"Young Lochinvar is come out of the West."

Surely there "never was knight like the young Lochinvar," nor helmets so strong nor lace gowns so beautiful as graced the young actors from the eighth grade in their original interpretation of Lochinvar. The burlesque in pantomime was entirely the work of the children who took the several parts and was screamingly successful. Colanders for helmets, wonderful tinfoil goblets, wooly ermine and lace gowns for bride and bridesmaids made some people wonder if there were any more old lace curtains left in Sierra Madre. The cast was:

King.....Elizabeth DeTemple
Queen.....Edith DeTemple Guards, Elizabeth Woods, Beatrice White.

Reader.....Gertrude Knowles
Bride.....Margaret Stovall
Groom.....Florence Peterson
Bridesmaids, Ernestine Gray, Hazel Udell.

Lochinvar.....Thelma McElvain

Funds for Lot Purchase

The commercial side of club affairs had its inning too. Mrs. Milton Steinberger with her usual force and enthusiasm conducted an intensive drive for contributions toward the $500 now due on the lot adjoining the club house on the west. Responses to her call for $5 donations came thick and fast, 36 in all. Then came donations in the names of club husbands and daughters, followed by $3, $2 and $1 donations. By that time 48 of the 60 members present had responded. Then came a call for $1 contributions additional to be put into a fund toward this present need and the fund to be named after the president, Mrs. Stork. Forty-eight responded to this call. Payments are to be made immediately to Mrs. W. E. Walker and it is hoped this opportunity to help lift the indebtedness may reach many who were not present on Wednesday.

S. M. Garage Puts in Big Radio Store

This week's improvement at the Sierra Madre Garage is the installation of display window equipment which materially improves the front of the largest establishment in the business district. The particular reason which called for the improvement at this time was the expansion of the radio department.

So successful was Mr. Steinberger in selling Atwater-Kent Radio outfits during the past year that he made arrangements to act as direct distributor instead of selling on a sub-agency plan as before. He now has the complete Atwater-Kent line in stock, including the new models at reduced prices. The old models with all the fascinating works exposed were recognized as wonderful instruments. The line now includes these with the addition of a variety of cabinet and console models.

"We will be glad to demonstrate any of these models in the homes of interested persons," said Mr. Steinberger. "The only way to buy a radio set is to try it out and see how it will act under the conditions prevailing where it is to be used. Sometimes a splendid set fails to give expected results because not properly installed or because of some outside condition which can be corrected. That is where we try to insure the maximum results for the Atwater-Kent investor."

HALLOWE'EN OF LONG AGO

There was just enough Hallowe'en mischief this year to afford a reminder of the occasion, but not enough to cause serious results. However, it reminded Captain J. A. Osgood of a Hallowe'en of 64 years ago, concerning which he writes as follows:

The Hallowe'en pranks here and elsewhere reported this year remind me of an event in that line that took place in the year 1860.

I was absent from school at that time but on my return from home one of the boys who took part in the affair gave me the following account.

At Hallowe'en a number of the students of Phillips Exeter Academy at Exeter, New Hampshire, moved signs and gates and committed other depredations.

Mr. Tuck, a prominent lawyer and politician, and a director in the academy, had these boys arrested, but one of the townspeople said: "Mr. Tuck, you have not arrested Robert Lincoln; he was one of them."

"I could not arrest him, for he is the son of Abraham Lincoln who may become president," said Mr. Tuck.

When the students were brought before the justice of the peace at Exeter, Robert Lincoln spoke up and said: "Here, Mr. Justice, you have not arrested me; I was one of them."

The good old pustice turned the matter over to the greatly beloved president of the academy, Dr. Gideon Soule, who called the boys together in one of the academy rooms and gave them such a kind and fatherly talk that all hands at once marched out and made good their Hallowe'en acts.

I tell this to show of what good stuff the son of dear Abraham Lincoln was made, and the good example set for other boys.

JOSIAH A. OSGOOD.

house the evening after Thanksgiving, Friday, Nov. 28. Mrs. Milton Steinberger is chairman in charge and that alone ensures a good time. The music will be the well known K H J Orchestra which, all know, means the Newton family, formerly of Sierra Madre. It will come over a new broadcasting station and will be even better than at present. Fancy dress is not the order of the evening. Come prepared to enjoy an old fashioned supper and husking bee with some old fashioned dances thrown in for good measure. The charter members of the club, with their husbands, will be the hosts and hostesses.

The next regular meeting of the club will be on December 10.

The Childrens' Amendment
On Wednesday, Nov. 19 at 2 p. m., at the Womans' University Club, 943 South Hoover, the Childrens' Amendment will be presented by Mr. H. H. Duryea, member of the advisory board of the National Child Labor Committee. Leaders of the question hour will be Mrs. O. C. Bryant of the California state board of charities and corrections, and Mrs. Harmon Zahn. All friends of children are invited to attend and become aggressive supporters armed with facts to correct the misrepresentations and distortions of fact becoming so widespread.

IF You didn't have ICE!

MANY years ago when there was little or no manufactured ice, housewives were unable to depend upon the regular delivery of ice throughout the year.

In those days—time of dreaded disease epidemics—little was known about the proper care of food. Its vital importance with relation to health.

Today, just as we know and depend upon the comforts and convenience of electricity, good housewives realize the supreme importance of keeping perishable food always on ice—at a temperature that prevents germ growth and food waste every day in the year.

Isn't your health worth it? Take ice regularly and it will save its cost to you many times over.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

CHINESE LEARN WAR

Little attention is paid by the average American to the civil war now in progress in China, but it may have some significance for us, after all. The cause of the war or its immediate outcome are perhaps not important to us, but the fact that may be important is that the Chinese are learning the arts of war.

So long as China is not a military nation, it offers little danger to white civilization, but let that great sleeping country, with its untold millions of people, develop and become conscious of its potential strength and we may have a "yellow peril" that is real.

One has only to reflect on the progress of Japan in this respect within the past fifty years to understand what a few military geniuses might accomplish in China.

A ROLL OF HONOR

On Armistice Day, November 11, began the annual Red Cross Roll Call, when millions of Americans again renew their allegiance to the greatest relief agency in the world.

Communities that have not known sweeping disaster have no idea of what the timely aid given by this great organization means. Whether it be the unhappy victims of a world war, of a West Indian hurricane, of a Galveston flood, a San Francisco fire, a Japanese earthquake or a Sierra Madre forest fire—the Red Cross is always ready to give them aid and usually is the first on the scene.

A dollar will make you a member of this prominent agency of mercy, whose roster is indeed a roll of honor.

HUMAN LIFE IS CHEAP

Since the beginning of history, human life has been held more cheaply than anything else in the world. It is so held today. A large percentage of the human race has always met death through the criminality, ignorance or carelessness of fellow men.

Could the minds of all men be directed to the preservation of human life, what a difference it would make! No more wars, no more murders, no more preventable deaths through automobile accidents, no more lives lost in fires started through carelessness—how changed would be the front pages of our daily newspapers!

To mention only three causes of violent death, the best authorities estimate that in the United States each year 10,000 are murdered, 15,000 are killed in automobile accidents and 15,000 are burned to death. The total number of persons killed in accidents now numbers more than 75,000 a year.

While giving our attention to a multitude of other reforms and isms, would it not be well to devote more serious thought and action towards reducing this appalling and unnecessary waste of human life

WHAT STREET IMPROVEMENT DOES

Paving of East Laurel avenue, recently completed by Contractor Harvey Steinberger, is a shining example of what street improvement will do for a neighborhood.

So far as attractive, well kept homes go, East Laurel had more than the average. But the whole block was marred in appearance and the inhabitants and the general public inconvenienced by the condition of the street for some time past.

Upon the initiative of some of the residents, proceedings were started for the improvement just completed. The transformation is worth a special tour of inspection. The impression on one familiar with the prior condition is rather astonishing. The transformation in the street changes the appearance of the property, even what was well kept before.

That there has been an immediate and substantial increase in property values cannot be denied. Probably double the cost of the improvement could be added to the selling price of any piece of property on the street.

This particular improvement is cited because it is a fine example of the effect of public improvement work. The same results are being accomplished in varying degrees on other streets. Now that the campaign is well under way, it is to be hoped the contagion will spread to other streets which are even more in need of improvement before they are left far in the lurch by the progress of the rest of the town.

Gift Book Is Latest From Dr. Campbell

Scattered all over the world are people who are always quick to buy any new book from the pen of Dr. James M. Campbell of Claremont, formerly of Sierra Madre. These people are largely divided into two classes—personal friends who welcome fresh opportunity to keep in touch with a mind and spirit they have learned to love, and religious students who find in Dr. Campbell's writing a rare combination of clear thinking and penetrating spiritual sense closely akin to the mystic.

To all these, especially the former class, will come with strong appeal Dr. Campbell's latest book, "Heaven Opened," a companion to his earlier work, "Grow Old Along With Me." It is published by Revell and announced as "a book of comfort and hope, . . . a book to hug to the heart, breathing as it does, assurance of how the soul of the Christian believer at the close of a life of faith, may go out into the unseen, fearing no evil, knowing that God is near, sure of Heaven because sure of God."

Ignoring Heaven

Dr. Campbell makes the point in a prefatory note that lately there has been an over-emphasis to the earthward side of religion and an ignoring of the hereafter, which has resulted in distinct loss. He argues that the loss is keenly felt by groping multitudes who seek light and comfort in spiritualism and kindred cults. His argument might find support in the recent revelations in Los Angeles of the number of victims who have fallen prey to the horde of fraudulent spiritualistic mediums and teachers.

To his many friends, Dr. Campbell is an ever-growing wonder, having in his 84th year completed three books which round out a remarkable literary career. In the near future the Methodist publishing house will bring out "Life's Highest Loyalty," a little book for young people. It puts the New Testament story in compact form, without bias, but in a way designed to bring the question of allegiance squarely before the reader for decision. The third book will be more distinctly for theological students and ministers, and will also come from the Methodist press. Among such readers there will be a ready demand for any book from the author of Paul, the Mystic, The Indwelling Christ, The Heart of the Gospel, and The Teachings of the Books. Although he has had to work for several years without the use of his eyes, Dr.

STAFF SADLER IS DELEGATE TO FRAT CONCLAVE

Stafford Sadler of Sierra Madre, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Sadler, has been elected to represent the interfraternity council of Oregon Agricultural College at the national interfraternity conclave to be held in New York City early in December. He is a member of the Delta Upsilon chapter at O. A. C., and is a senior this year.

M. A. DeTemple of 210 Mariposa Ave., was suddenly stricken with an acute attack of appendicitis while in Los Angeles on business. He was taken to the Clara Barton hospital for treatment and is reported to be recovering nicely. In his absence a first class plumber will be secured to look after his business. He expects to return home for Thanksgiving.

Campbell's keen vigor of mind has been unimpaired.
From Scotland to California
Dr. Campbell was born in Scotland in 1840, and educated in the universities of Glasgow and Edinburgh. He began work in the Y. M. C. A., which was then in its infancy, and was the second general secretary in Scotland. Later he studied theology under James Morrison and was ordained to the Congregational ministry in 1866. He came to America in 1874, celebrating the 50th anniversary of his arrival this year. He has served as editor of the Christian Century, The American Weekly and Christendom. He has held pastorates in Illinois and Wisconsin, and at Sierra Madre, Manhattan Beach and Avalon in Southern California.

Since retiring from active pastoral work two or three years ago, Dr. Campbell has resided at Claremont near Pomona College, which bestowed upon him the degree of Doctor of Divinity, an honor rarely conferred by Pomona. Last week he and his daughter, Miss Mae Campbell, came to Sierra Madre for a brief visit at the home of his son, Morrison Campbell, of 484 Mariposa avenue. In the course of a brief chat, Dr. Campbell informed the editor of the News that the three books above named would be his last literary work except for occasional magazine contributions. Fortunately he has lived long enough to realize something of the gratitude which his hosts of readers feel for his messages of faith and encouragement.

(For the benefit of Dr. Campbell's friends in Sierra Madre who may wish to procure his newest book, they may be purchased through the Congregational Ladies' Aid Society.)

Bringing Home the Bacon

Advertising agencies and publicity experts the country over are agreed that the country town newspaper is the best advertising medium in the world.

This conclusion is reached in the fact that the country town newspaper is the most thoroughly read, and this is because it publishes those things in which the people of the community are interested.

On this reasoning, which is good, this newspaper offers the best possible method of reaching the people of Sierra Madre.

Local advertisers, who never miss an issue, tell us News advertising pays.

The reason is that News advertisements are read along with all the other interesting things in the paper.

Plans for Proposed Congregational Church Building

Further steps in the maturing of plans for a new Congregational church building were taken at a dinner and conference held last Friday evening at which the building finance committee had as guests Dr. Lash of Hollywood, Dr. Calderwood of Glendale, Mr. Isaacs of Eagle Rock and Mr. Mr. McQueen of Monrovia. All of these men have recently engaged in erecting new churches and related their experiences to the committee, with Dr. W. A. Tate, pastor.

The church has already approved preliminary plans drawn by Architect Mott M. Marston of Los Angeles and which are reproduced here. The expected cost of the building, erected of frame and stucco, is in the neighborhood of $45,000.

The auditorium would seat 300 persons on the main floor, with a balcony over the foyer seating 150. On the lower floor is a banquet and entertainment hall 32x60 feet, with stage at one end and kitchen at the other.

Abundant provision is made for the accommodation of all the various auxiliary organizations of a modern church. One novel feature is the provision for showers, made especially desirable by the proximity to the recreation facilities of the city park across the street.

Provision is made for a well organized and closely graded church school, divided into three or four departments. Separate class rooms in abundance are provided to afford the best of instruction facilities.

One of the striking features of Mr. Marston's plan is the fine circulation facilities. The arrangement of entrances, corridors, stairways, etc., is such that groups or crowds can move from any part of the building to any other part with a minimum of confusion.

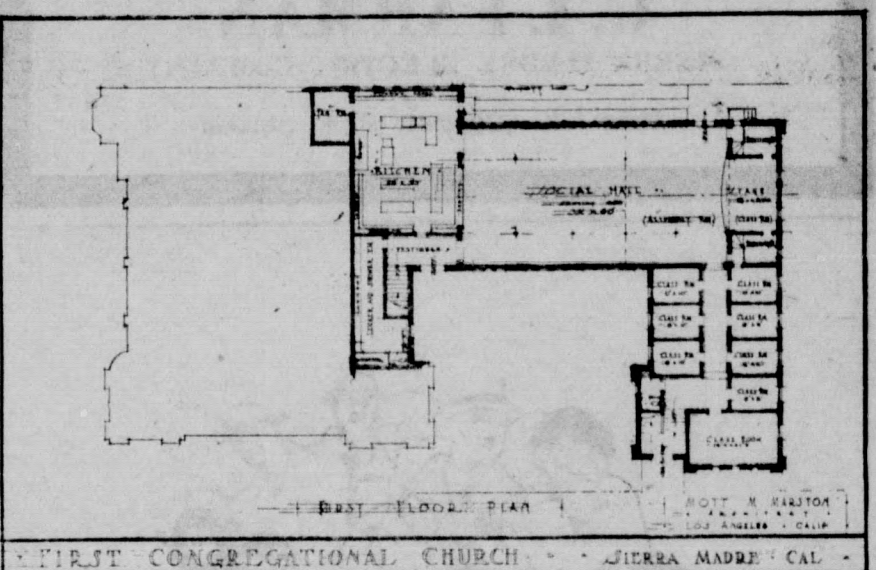

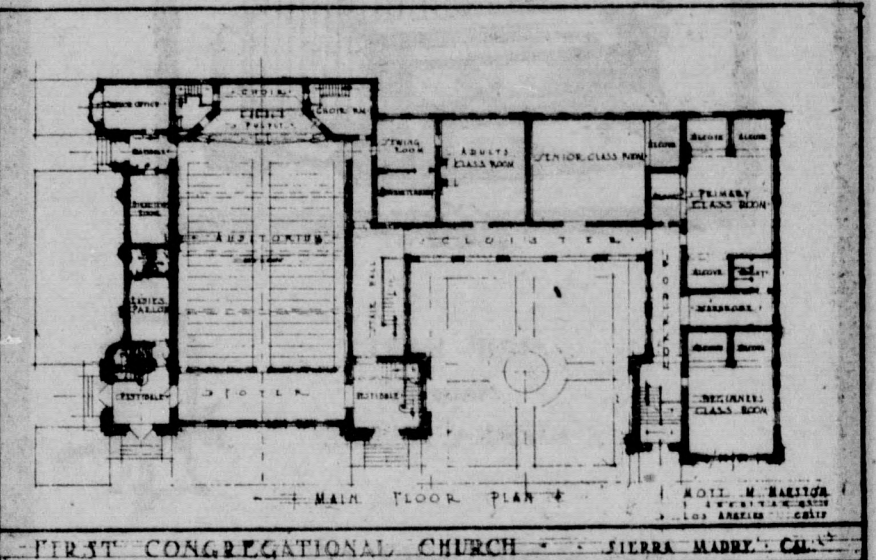

This plan has been adopted as a goal toward which to work in making wise provision for the future. The lot at the corner of Central and Hermosa was purchased more than a year ago. It has 99 feet frontage on Central avenue and 280 feet on Hermosa facing the city park. The parsonage was moved from the old location to the south end of the lot, leaving 220 feet available for church use.

The building committee, which cooperated with Mr. Marston in development of the plans, consisted of C. W. Jones, chairman; W. S. Hull, vice chairman; George B. Morgridge, secretary; Mrs. J. M. Campbell, Miss Muriel Tarr and Arthur Evans.

Having determined the amount necessary to provide a suitable plant to replace the present outgrown building, the finance committee has been working for some time upon the best plan of raising the necessary funds, the meeting of last Friday night being merely one step in their investigations. No campaign less, Daniel Shaffer, E. D. Burbank, will be undertaken until the committee has decided that the time is prop-

Mr. Snell on Profit Plan
Of Business

Whether one agrees with him or not, a letter from A. F. Snell of 94 North Canyon avenue is always worth reading, unless one has an aversion to thinking. For he affords something demanding thought. His many years of experience as a banker give an unusual background for an argument against the profit system of production and distribution.

If everybody could support their claims in as fine a spirit as Mr. Snell, it might not matter so much just what system of business prevailed for a good many of the maladjustments of society would be corrected by that spirit alone. Now that election is over, Mr. Snell's letter can be read without fear that it conceals an appeal for votes for something sinister. The letter follows:

Sierra Madre, Nov. 10.—In a former letter for which you were so good as to allow me space, I made the statement that the proposition for which I was trying to plead, meant far more to me than any material gain it might bring to the people; that anything that affected our relations with our fellow men had also a spiritual value, which to me was the significant thing. With your permission I would like to develop that idea. Now that the election is over, we are in the "thinking time." As Lincoln said: "This is the time to take stock, to see where we are, what we are doing, and whether do we trend—" or words to that effect.

I do not wish to inflict upon your readers a history of the several stages of my development, except to say that I have always taken my religion seriously; that "Thy will be done on earth" always bulked larger in my vision than the other world conditions.

Material Advance First

Now to the point: It is a fact, is it not, that the material progress of the race has far outstripped the spiritual? Why is this so? In my study of economics, I came to the conclusion that it was because of the way we make our living.

Starting with the early struggles of the race, we come up through barbarism (so-called), cannibalism, slavery, feudalism, to the present form of society which we call "capitalism," or the "wage system." Let us agree that capitalism has played an important and necessary part in the development of the race. But, "where are we now, and whither do we trend?" Is it not true that because of the way we make our living, we have simply perpetuated in other forms the conditions that seem so abhorrent to our more or less sensitive natures? Cannibalism has been abolished, yet we literally live on the flesh and blood of little children for profit. Chattel slavery, too, has been abolished, but we still have with us industrial slavery, which in some respects is infinitely worse. In the old days it paid the master to keep his slaves in good condition. Today, however, the master who owns my job owns me; and if I succumb he can get another for nothing. This is "where we are." Now, "whither do we trend?"

Profit and the Future

Keep in mind that we are now making our living by profits of one kind or another. I am, therefore, led to make this prophecy, viz: No nation can exist indefinitely on a profit basis. To me it is as much a mathematical impossibility as to make 2 and 1 make 4. Again I quote "my captain": "No nation can endure half slave and half free" (whether as chattel or industrial.) Let me try to make this clear, for it is the crux of the problem.

We produce and manufacture goods in order to make a profit. The machinery of production is owned by a comparatively small number of people—say 15 per cent. This 15 per cent pay back in wages to the 85 per cent less than half of the total value produced. Hence, it is a mathematical impossibility for the 85 per cent to buy back all they have produced. Therefore, the 15 per cent, not being able to consume all the surplus themselves, must dispose of it to other nations. Thus it goes from nation to nation until it reaches the nation which is not producing a surplus, where it is finally consumed. Let me say here that such nations are getting fewer and fewer as production develops. What, I ask my friends of the chamber of commerce, will happen when we are unable to dispose of our surplus?

Use vs. Profit

If this diagnosis is correct, it naturally follows that the nation distributing the value of its total product to all its people, will be the nation most fitted to survive. Is it not, therefore, the patriotic duty of the citizen to help organize the nation so that we may be allowed to produce for use and not for profit? Can we do it? Can enough people rise above

WOMEN FROM

Mrs. Lois Myer of Ashfield, Mass., 76 years of age, handles several hundred calls every day as a telephone operator. She says: "If you want to keep young, have an interest in life."

Grandma de Brena, aged 70, who lives in the tower of the cathedral in Mexico City, has not been down to the street level for 40 years. Her son is in charge of the cathedral bells and she lives with him and his family 200 feet above the ground.

Mrs. Martha Clemens of Eldersville, Pa., although 97 years old and badly crippled, earns considerable money by knitting beautiful laces while confined to her bed and is unable to supply the demand for her exquisite handiwork.

Mrs. Ruth Garver, giving an exhibition at Wichita, Kas., fell 1,000 feet and was killed when her parachute failed to open after she had jumped from an airplane.

Most remarkable is the family record of Mrs. Joseph Booth, aged 92, of Cardiff, Wales, who has 9 children, 30 grandchildren, 47 great-grandchildren and 3 great-great-grandchildren—ALL BOYS.

Frau Emma Zuerch of Berlin, now 93, has been widowed by death seven times, her last husband having died 29 years ago.

Governor Morrison of North Carolina has appointed Mrs. Edith Vanderbilt of Asheville as a member of the state board of agriculture.

At the age of 17 Miss Gertrude Caroline Ederle, a New York school girl, has broken every known record for women swimmers from 100 yards to 800 yards and is the holder of more world's records than any other woman in sport. Since her first contest at 11 years of age she has won 250 swimming races.

REAL RIDING IN LUBITSCH
PRODUCTION

Horsemanship learned upon the wild steppes of the Cossacks' native land is shown in cavalry scenes which Ernst Lubitsch filmed for Pola Negri's latest starring picture for Paramount. "Forbidden Paradise," due at the Colonial Theatre, Monrovia, next Wednesday.

In recruiting riders for these scenes which take place in a country situated in the Balkans, Lubitsch stipulated that only men trained in the Cossack school would be considered.

Hundreds of ex-Russian cavalrymen and horsemen whose early days were spent in the Cossack country, responded. Costumed in the uniforms of the Hungarian cavalry regiments wiped out by the war, these seasoned horsemen give exhibitions of daring riding which have rarely been duplicated for the screen.

"Forbidden Paradise" was adapted to the screen by Agnes Christine Johnston and Hans Kraly from the stage play, "The Czarina." Rod La Rocque, Adolphe Menjou and Pauline Starke head the cast supporting Pola Negri.

Judge Wilson R. Yard of New York was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Dewey at Canyon Crest Lodge. Judge Yard made the trip by way of the Panama canal and although his visit was a short one, he was greatly impressed with the beauty of the Sierra Madre mountains and especially the Mt. Wilson Trail trip, which he considered as wonderfully interesting as the beauty spots of Wales and Switzerland.

their immediate material interests to clear the way?

I am quite well aware that no material conditions are of much value unless the spiritual vision is also present. I only plead that the material stumbling blocks be removed so that the spiritual may have a chance to develop.

When Moses witnessed the worship of the Golden Calf he should have added one more commandment to the Decalogue: "Thou shalt not demand profit" is really of more importance than "Thou shalt not steal" or "Thou shalt not commit adultery." As a matter of fact, the later prophets did so declare it, only they called it "gain" and "usury."

I have the utmost faith in a "Wise Planner" to believe that the ideal earthly Kingdom will yet come to cheer the hearts of struggling men. But whether it does or not, the value to me is, not that I see it realized, but that I have worked for it. And I know that the contrary choice will bring its penalty. By exactly so much as I am indifferent to these my brethren, by so much have I robbed and darkened my life.

A. F. SNELL.

SAFEST PLACE FOR SHOPPER IS AT HOME

"Now that the holidays are looming near and the Christmas shopping season will soon be at its height," said G. I. Farman of the Sierra Madre Electric Co., "I wish there were some way to impress on Sierra Madre people the possibilities of home trading. Many people are simply fooling themselves when they go to the city with the idea of finding a bigger variety, or better goods at lower prices. Often they pay more for inferior merchandise than they would have paid if they had trusted their home merchant.

"We have built up our trade on standard merchandise and can duplicate anything they can buy in Los Angeles. People often bring their 'bargain' electrical appliances for repairs and are much surprised to find how cheaply they could have bought guaranteed merchandise from a home dealer who would have stood back of it."

"The same thing is true of many other lines handled by Sierra Madre merchants," said Mr. Farman. "And all they ask is an even chance. If the people will give them that it will be a genuine 'good will' Christmas."

Pasadena Is Expanding on Eastern Side

Three annexation elections will be held, during December in different districts along the eastern borders of Pasadena to determine whether or not they will become a part of Pasadena. At the rate Pasadena is expanding toward the east, it will not be long until her borders are contiguous to Sierra Madre and she will be eligible to become a part of this city.

Notice of an election is published in this paper for the district known as Lamanda Park No. 2 and lying along both sides of Allen Avenue south of Colorado Street as far as the boundaries of San Marino. A district north of Lamanda Park and a third district lying north of Washington Street will vote at later elections, and a favorable result is expected in all districts.

TEA ROOM IS OPENED WITH FINE DINNER

Opening of the Wistaria Tea room on Tuesday was a gala occasion, when a large number of people enjoyed the special dinner and took advantage of the offerings in the delicatessen department, a new thing for Sierra Madre. Mrs. Muskrath and Mrs. Holbert, the proprietors, were the recipients of a number of handsome bouquets, floral and oral, by way of congratulations. Several parties enjoyed dinner there prior to attending the Legion dance in the evening.

Marshal Petain, who broke the German line on three fronts during the war, is now a rose gardener at his farm in southern France.

the inhabitants of this lucky city that there is no need of amplification of the last announcement.

Mrs. Lee Lyon will sell books, church calendars and Christmas cards, while the Junior Altar Guild will have a table of fancy and useful articles. These younger girls, under the direction of Miss Vannier, have worked hard and faithfully making the articles for their table and they feel very proud of the showing they will have. The order of St. Catherine, composed of the older girls and young women, will have a booth devoted to handkerchiefs, while the Knights of St. Paul, the boys' organization, are preparing a "Museum of Natural History,"
